A MESSAGE FROM THE LIBRARY DIRECTOR

As per the latest mandates from the State, all libraries in the county are closed through Sunday, April 5th. We will re-evaluate the situation closer to that date and alert you to any changes.

Please do not drop off any book donations.

The Friends of the William Jeanes Memorial Library is not accepting any more donations until after their next sale. Anything donated now will just require staff time and effort to dispose of, according to best practices during a time of self-quarantine.

Thank you for your understanding and cooperation.

The Friends of the William Jeanes Memorial Library established the Nancy Corson Creative Writing Fund in 2012, in honor of our former long-time Friends board member, who passed away in February of 2012.
Nancy was an active and passionate member of the Friends, serving as Membership Chair and maintaining the membership records for many years.

In recognition of Nancy’s passion for writing, the Friends have committed to an annual contribution to this fund.
Monies from the Nancy Corson Creative Writing Fund support
Book and Poetry Writing Contests and Workshops.

Members of the public are welcome to make contributions to the Nancy Corson Creative Writing Fund which is managed by the Library.
